I stand for the rights of the accused and have years of experience in a wide variety of legal disciplines. The focus of my practice is in the field of criminal defense. For approximately four years all I did in Nashville, Tennessee is practice criminal defense. Now I have relocated back to my hometown of Clarksville, Tennessee to continue an already successful legal career. It is important to know your rights and not go to court unrepresented. When you are facing criminal charges you need a top Clarksville criminal defense lawyer to represent your rights and defend you.
