Curingosity is THE online destination for anyone who wants to design and build a unique, one-of-a-kind engagement ring or any occasion ring for the special person in their life. Our easy to use and easy to get started process allows you to send us your idea, as well as pick your metal, stones and peruse the option of natural diamonds or lab-grown diamonds as your centerpiece.

Our knowledgeable Curingosity staff is available to assist you with your custom-design and walk you through the different choices available in our diamonds and gemstones. Our years and experience in the business allow for reasonable pricing and attention that you just can't get at a Chain store jeweler, let alone the ability to craft something unique and personal that only your partner will have. As our tagline says "Unique never meant easy until now". But it also means, friendly, reliable, reasonably priced, highly-crafted and in a surprisingly realistic timeframe.
