At Dental Arts of Delaware, our first goal is to establish trust. Our job is to listen to you, respect your feelings and concerns, and educate you, rather than judge. We are here to help in any way you would like, though our main goal is to help you obtain optimal oral health. Dr. Fink and Dr. Appleman understand that you may be anxious about the process of receiving dental care; therefore, they make it a point to carefully explain your proposed treatment options and take the time to answer all of your questions. Only then will they take you through your chosen treatment with the utmost care. Dr. Fink and Dr. Appleman know that the more involved you are in making your dental health decisions, the less room there is for fear and uncertainty
