Prescient Technologies is a digital transformation services company. We offer digital transformation services that enable digital transformations in your organizations by collaborating with your Engineering, R&D and IT teams. We are a consultant who creates digital transformation strategy, offers expert suggestions based on market data, and help other companies develop & implement an effective digital ecosphere via means of digital technologies.

Digital transformation services are a large-scale exodus of the manufacturing sector and other domains from the traditional, analogue, manual mode of work toward digital technologies. As a digital transformation services company, we build innovative technology solutions based on our expertise in CAD/PLM, artificial intelligence, machine learning, vision-image processing, the internet of things, analytics, and mathematics.
