The cast iron enamel South African pot can transfer the external heat energy to the internal raw materials in a balanced and long-lasting manner, which is conducive to the mutual penetration of water molecules and food and can release the taste of the food to the maximum extent. The 3 legs and round belly shape allow even heat distribution around the pot. For your favorite soups, curried vegetables, stews, braising, cooking and boiling milk, tea, chicken, and so on.
