SHAKTI PLASTIC INDUSTRIES is the only company to recycle all TYPES OF polymers under one roof.

Also all materials are processed from post industrial waste. We normally procure these materials from industries as well as consumers. These are in different forms like article waste, lumps, regrades, aglo films, rolls, sheets, bails, etc. These materials are being converted into different varieties of granules.

What is EPR

Extended Producer Responsibility/EPR refers to the responsibility of management of disposal of those products once labeled as no longer useful by the consumers. Our main objective is to develop an easy and effective system that takes care of collection, segregation, and transportation of the material to the waste disposal facility which is approved by MPCB and CPCB as a professional agency.
