Deafness Injury Lawyer in Jacksonville, Florida

Hearing loss claims are often related to workplace injuries, such as Industrial Deafness, Tinnitus, and Acoustic Shock, but can also occur due to age-related factors like presbycusis.

To qualify for compensation, you must demonstrate that your hearing was normal before exposure to industrial noise and that this exposure directly caused your hearing loss. In most cases, you'll need an opinion from a qualified medical professional to establish the link between the noise exposure and your hearing impairment. Whether your hearing loss is partial or severe, you may be eligible for compensation.
