World of Controls specializes in GE Speedtronic turbine control systems, offering comprehensive solutions for gas turbines, steam turbines, and drive controls. Our services include providing new and remanufactured parts, as well as testing, repair, and certification. We maintain a vast inventory of unused and rebuilt components to meet a wide range of operational needs.

WOC provides both rebuilt and unused parts, ensuring genuine OEM products for all customers. A key strength of WOC is its advanced test and repair facility, operated by highly experienced engineers. Beyond supplying turbine control system parts, WOC also offers a range of services, including part testing and repair, control system/DCS troubleshooting, and specialized training.

World of Controls is dedicated to supporting your organization with all power plant-related needs. We offer reliable supply from our extensive inventory at competitive prices, backed by a warranty and a commitment to uncompromised quality.
