I'm not a motivational speaker nor some has-been investor selling the secrets that worked once upon a time.

I'm a South Florida based computer geek turned high-volume, ultra-active real estate investor. By mastering the unsexy grunt work of data mining that everyone finds so boring, I turned $39,000 in savings into a $50 million portfolio in nine years. And I can help you do the same... Or better.

Connections, capital, luck or skill having nothing to do with it. Lasting and sustainable success in this business is all about data. With the right software in place to create a “God’s eye view” of every possible off-market lead in your territory before anyone else, and a professional real estate sales system to exploit those leads, you’ll be unstoppable in any property market.
